

Transition in a Time of Pandemic

The world is in transition. So is the Church throughout the world. The pandemic caused by the COVID 19 virus has closed the doors of many Church buildings. But that doesn't mean the Church's life and work have been 'shut down'.

At New St James Church, we continue to worship in our homes and in our hearts. We reach out to our neighbours with words of encouragement and deeds of kindness. We pray and live our faith. Haven't we always? We still do.

In the meantime, plans are afoot for a safe, measured, and gradual re-opening of the Church building. When will that be? No one can say with certainty, but the day will come when the time is right.

Patience, too, is part of faith.

New St James Church has been a faithful, living witness to Jesus Christ, a loving fellowship, gifted and blessed by God. None of that has changed. There is a path. It leads to our future. We have ample reason for hope and gratitude.

Rev. Andrew Fullerton
Interim Moderator